- Third parties to whom we may choose to transfer, or merge parts of our business or our assets.

DATA RETENTION

HOW LONG WILL YOU USE MY PERSONAL DATA FOR?

We will only retain your personal data for as long as necessary to fulfil the purposes we collected it for, including for the purposes of satisfying any legal, regulatory, accounting, or reporting requirements.

To determine the appropriate retention period for personal data, we consider the amount, nature, and sensitivity of the personal data, the potential risk of harm from unauthorised use or disclosure of your personal data, the purposes for which we process your personal data and whether we can achieve those purposes through other means, and the applicable legal requirements.

By law we have to keep basic information about our customers (including Contact details, Identity, Financial and Transaction Data) for seven years after they cease being customers. The seven years retention period has been decided taking into consideration all relevant laws and regulations such as MiFID II, MiFIR II, the Money Laundering, Terrorist Financing and Transfer of Funds (Information on the Payer) Regulations 2017 as well as relevant HM Revenue and Customs laws. We may in certain circumstances retain your personal data for longer periods of time where we have a legitimate interest in doing so (for instance where we need to retain your personal information to enable us to defend ourselves against a claim you may have).

In some circumstances you can ask us to delete your data: see Right to request erasure below for further information.

YOUR LEGAL RIGHTS

Under the Data Protection Legislation you have certain rights which are detailed below. Some of the rights stated below only apply under specific circumstances and are qualified in several respects by exemptions provided by the Data Protection Legislation.

- Right of access to your personal data (commonly known as a “data subject access request”). This enables you to receive a copy of the personal data we hold about you and to check that we are lawfully processing it.
- Right to rectification. You have the right to request rectification or correction of the personal data that we hold about you which is incorrect. We may need to verify the accuracy of the new data you provide to us.
- Right to request erasure of your personal data. This enables you to ask us to delete or remove personal data where there is no compelling reason for us to continue to process it. You also have the right to ask us to delete or remove your personal data where you have successfully exercised your right to object to processing (see below), where we may have processed your information unlawfully or where we are required to erase your personal data to comply with local law. Note, however, that the right to request erasure of your data is not an absolute right therefore and we may not always be able to comply with your request of erasure for specific legal reasons (for instance we may be required to retain your data as described in section “Data Retention”).

- Right to object to processing of your personal data which is processed on the basis of our legitimate interests. However, we may continue to process your Personal Data, despite your objection, where there are compelling legitimate grounds to do so or we need to process your Personal Data in connection with any legal claims.
- Right to request restriction of processing of your personal data in certain circumstances. Where we suspend our processing of your Personal Data we will still be permitted to store your Personal Data, but any other processing of this information will require your consent, subject to certain exemptions.

Right to data portability. This right allows you to obtain your Personal Data that you have provided to us with your consent or which was necessary for us to provide you with our products and services in a format which enables you to transfer that Personal Data to another organisation. You may have the right to have your Personal Data transferred by us directly to the other organisation, if this is technically feasible. Please note that this right only applies (a) to personal information you have provided to us, (b) where processing is based on your consent or the performance of a contract or (c) when processing is carried out by automated means.

- Right to withdraw consent at any time where we are relying on consent to process your personal data. However, this will not affect the lawfulness of any processing carried out before you withdrew your consent. If you withdraw your consent, we may not be able to provide certain products or services to you. We will advise you if this is the case at the time of your request. To opt out from email marketing you can use the unsubscribe link provided in the marketing communication you receive from us. If you wish to unsubscribe from marketing communications you may contact us at privacy@finalto.com or contact the Onboarding team at onboarding@finalto.com.
- Rights relating to automated decision making and profiling: You have the right not to be subject to a decision which is based solely on automated processing (without human involvement) where that decision produces a legal effect or has some other significant effect on you. In such cases you have a right to request human intervention or contest the decision taken solely by automated means. We may use profiling and automation to assist with the identification of potential cases of financial crime, where this is necessary for entering into or performing a contract, to fulfill our legal and regulatory obligations, in cases where we have obtained your consent or where this is authorized by applicable law.
- Right to lodge a complaint with the Data Protection Authority of your jurisdiction. The UK authority is the Information Commissioner’s Office - <https://ico.org.uk/global/contact-us/>

If you wish to exercise any of the rights set out above or have any questions, please contact the us at privacy@finalto.com or send a letter to 11th Floor, Broadgate Tower, 20 Primrose Street, London, EC2A 2EW, United Kingdom.

You will not have to pay a fee to access your personal data (or to exercise any of the other rights). However, we may charge a reasonable fee if your request is clearly unfounded, repetitive or excessive. Alternatively, we may refuse to comply with your request in these circumstances in accordance with the Data Protection Legislation.

WHAT WE MAY NEED FROM YOU

We may need to request specific information from you to help us confirm your identity and ensure your right to access your personal data (or to exercise any of your other rights). This is a security measure to ensure that personal data is not disclosed to any person who has no right to receive it. We may also contact you to ask you for further information in relation to your request to speed up our response.

TIME LIMIT TO RESPOND

We try to respond to all legitimate requests within one month. Occasionally it may take us longer than a month if your request is particularly complex or you have made a number of requests. In this case, we will notify you and keep you updated.

DATA PROTECTION COMPLAINTS

If you have any concerns regarding the processing of your personal data, you may contact us at privacy@finalto.com. Please provide sufficient detail about your concern to allow us to investigate and respond appropriately. We will acknowledge receipt of your complaint within 30 days (in line with regulatory requirements) and will investigate and respond in accordance with our internal procedures and without undue delay.

Where your complaint involves different aspects (for example, both service-related issues and data protection concerns), we may address these separately to ensure that each matter is considered under the appropriate framework. However, we will seek to provide clear and consistent communication throughout.

If you remain dissatisfied with our response, you have the right to escalate your complaint with the Information Commissioner's Office (ICO).
